<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Word</th>
<th>Definition</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>accede</td>
<td>v. To agree to; to consent to, often after urging from another. Nasri acceded to the wishes of his classmates and stopped tapping his fingers on the table during study hall.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>affluent</td>
<td>adj. Generously supplied with money or possessions; wealthy. Although Cicely was not from an affluent family, she could attend an expensive school because of the scholarship she had won.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>affluence</td>
<td>n. Wealth. Mrs. Winn's affluence is due to oil being discovered on her land.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>arbitrary</td>
<td>adj. Determined by chance or whim rather than by reason or necessity. Even though our choice of restaurant was arbitrary, the food was delicious.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>artisan</td>
<td>n. One able to do skilled work with the hands; a craftsperson. Artisans working with leather, yarn, and clay displayed their products at the local crafts fair.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>dismantle</td>
<td>v. To take apart. Wong helped Matt dismantle the engine so they could begin work on the repair.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>immerse</td>
<td>v. 1. To cover with liquid. To prepare the salad, Eva first blanched the vegetables by immerging them in boiling water. 2. To completely engage the attention of. Sophie, immersed in her book, did not notice when Jay boarded the bus and sat down beside her.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>irksome</td>
<td>adj. Annoying; tedious. All the steps preliminary to painting the ceiling—scraping, patching, and sanding—were irksome to Nevaeh, who wanted to finish the job quickly.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Vocabulary Extension

malevolent

adjective Having the desire to harm another person; evil.

Academic Context

There are many malevolent characters in literature, such as the Wicked Witch of the West in The Wizard of Oz.

Word Parts

The prefix mal- means "bad" or "badly." What other words do you know with the prefix mal-?

---

Discussion & Writing Prompt

Think about a book or movie you like and describe its most malevolent character.

1. Turn and talk to your partner or group.
2. Write 2-4 sentences.

Use this space to take notes or draw your ideas.

Be ready to share what you have written.
legacy
leg' ə sé
n. 1. Money or property left to another in a will.
This silver pocket watch is my legacy from Grandfather Gomez.
2. Something passed on to those who come after.
Catholicism and the Spanish language are legacies of Spanish rule in Guatemala.

ostentatious
ás tan täh'shəs
adj. Extravagantly showy or ornate.
My grandmother favors ostentatious furnishings, but my dad prefers simple furniture and decorations.

panorama
pəram'ə
n. 1. A complete view of a surrounding area.
We took the elevator up to the observation deck so we could view the panorama of New York City and all its suburbs.
2. A thorough presentation of a subject.
One course my aunt teaches at the university is a panorama of civil-rights law in the United States.

> Explain to your partner why you would or would not be interested in a panorama of algebra.

philanthropy
fi lan' thrə pě
n. The attempt to improve the well-being of those in need by donating money or aid.
The philanthropy of the Tan family has provided the money for this cancer research center.

philanthropist
n. One who makes substantial contributions to those in need.
Andrew Carnegie, a renowned philanthropist, established many public libraries in the early 1900s.

> Tell your partner what kind of philanthropy you would like to be involved in.

prestige
pres təzh'ə
n. High standing; respect earned by accomplishments.
Winning the Nobel Prize brings much prestige.

prestigious
adj. (pres təj' as) Honored; esteemed.
An Oscar is the most prestigious award in the movie industry.

prolific
prə lif' ik
adj. Abundantly productive.
Although Maya Angelou was a prolific poet, she is known primarily for her series of autobiographies.

> Share with your partner a topic you have prolific thoughts about.
reticent adj. Inclined to keep one's thoughts and feelings to oneself; quiet and reserved. When we asked her about her parents, Adriana grew reticent.

reticence n. Silence or reserve. Liao's reticence about his plans for the summer made us even more curious.

Have your partner ask you a question, and then be reticent in your answer.

tycoon n. A wealthy and powerful businessperson. Sam Walton, the business tycoon who founded Walmart, worked at many different jobs while he was in school, including milking cows and waiting tables.

12A Using Words in Context
Read the following sentences. If the word in bold is used correctly, write C on the line. If the word is used incorrectly, write I on the line.

1. (a) An enormous iceberg immersed with the Titanic. ___
(b) I immersed my swollen ankle in ice water for ten minutes. ___
(c) A great actor immerses herself in the role and becomes that person. ___
(d) Abraham Lincoln was immersed in the enormous task of winning the war. ___

2. (a) The tycoon has become one of the wealthiest women in the country. ___
(b) The tycoon hit the coast with high winds and flooding. ___
(c) The digital age has created many tycoons who run powerful businesses. ___
(d) A tycoon rummaged through the trash and then disappeared into the night. ___

3. (a) Father acceded to my request for an increase in my allowance. ___
(b) She acceded to her friends' encouragement that she run for student-council president. ___
(c) Does his age accede the limit? ___
(d) After lunch, we accede to study hall. ___

4. (a) Mr. Cisco grows prolific whenever he thinks about life in the old country. ___
(b) He is a prolific author of horror stories. ___
(c) Before computers, most people were prolific letter writers. ___
(d) The South Pacific is prolific with humpback whales. ___
5. (a) Food soon becomes reticent if it is not stored in a cool place. ___
   (b) Milla has always been reticent around people she's just met. ___
   (c) I was too reticent to say anything about the mistake. ___
   (d) The Olympian was the reticence of the Bronze Medal. ___

6. (a) Her family was affluent for years until they lost their savings. ___
   (b) Private jets and large yachts are flagrant symbols of affluence. ___
   (c) After three months in Mexico, Jo was affluent in Spanish. ___
   (d) My mom says my new friend is a bad affluence. ___

7. (a) The Medal of Honor is the United States's most prestigious award. ___
   (b) Winning Olympic medals brings prestige to small countries. ___
   (c) Hiring the well-known teacher helped restore prestige to the school. ___
   (d) The most prestigious depth yet measured is 36,200 feet. ___

8. (a) The treasure remained ostentatious until its discovery in 1920. ___
   (b) Olivia wore ostentatious earrings because she loved to make a statement. ___
   (c) The luxury apartment was an ostentatious place to live. ___
   (d) In the animal kingdom, the prize for “most ostentatious” goes to the peacock with its colorful plumage. ___

9. (a) I always seem to be assigned the most irksome tasks at school. ___
   (b) Lopez gave an irksome wink to show he was in on the joke. ___
   (c) It was so irksome to have to stand there and do nothing. ___
   (d) I had so much irksome fun volunteering at the zoo. ___

10. (a) Who the coach chooses to clean the locker room is completely arbitrary. ___
    (b) Jaymes has always wanted to be an arbitrary surgeon. ___
    (c) A coin toss is an arbitrary method of deciding something. ___
    (d) What we eat tonight is arbitrary because I’m so hungry I will eat anything. ___

© SSI-DO NOT DUPLICATE
1. Which word or words go with giving?
   (a) benefactor  (b) threadbare  (c) philanthropy  (d) panorama

2. Which word or words go with complete view?
   (a) diversity  (b) typical  (c) panorama  (d) tycoon

3. Which word or words go with demolish?
   (a) immerse  (b) raze  (c) dismantle  (d) accede

4. Which word or words go with work?
   (a) panorama  (b) artisan  (c) legacy  (d) vocation

5. Which word or words go with agree?
   (a) concur  (b) accede  (c) dismantle  (d) enhance

6. Which word or words go with wealthy?
   (a) irksome  (b) arbitrary  (c) affluent  (d) prosperous

7. Which word or words go with unpleasant?
   (a) tedious  (b) monotonous  (c) irksome  (d) prolific

8. Which word or words go with showy?
   (a) affluent  (b) reticent  (c) ornate  (d) ostentatious

9. Which word or words go with productive?
   (a) ornate  (b) dismantle  (c) prolific  (d) prestigious

10. Which word or words go with money?
    (a) legacy  (b) panorama  (c) bankrupt  (d) tycoon
Determining Meanings

Circle the letter next to each answer choice that correctly completes the sentence. There may be more than one correct answer.

1. Philanthropists
   (a) use their money to improve the world.
   (b) may employ experts to tell them where to spend their money.
   (c) were first discovered in Africa a hundred thousand years ago.
   (d) will bid hundreds of thousands of dollars for a rare postage stamp.

2. The panorama
   (a) view from the window showed the entire beach at sunset.
   (b) photograph included most of Manhattan’s skyscrapers.
   (c) of troubles that seemed to follow Alyssa were irritating.
   (d) of American literature is the subject of today’s lecture.

3. A legacy
   (a) carries a hundred-dollar fine.
   (b) from an aunt enabled Ameira to go to college.
   (c) involving property should be looked over by a lawyer.
   (d) of debt was passed from one president to the next.

4. I was immersed
   (a) in my book when the doorbell rang.
   (b) by a horde of fans, yelling and screaming.
   (c) to hear that my best friend was valedictorian.
   (d) in learning my lines for the school play and didn’t hear the telephone.

5. I dismantled
   (a) from the horse and walked around to rub his nose.
   (b) toward the bus but was too late.
   (c) the bike for repairs later and put the pieces in the garage.
   (d) the tree house and used the wood to help my dad build a doghouse.

6. Artisans
   (a) were a form of money in Polynesian societies.
   (b) such as basket weavers and painters meet every Thursday.
   (c) hang on the walls of the cafeteria at school.
   (d) sell their products at the weekly farmers’ market.
7. Arbitrary
(a) to what I was told, there are no leprechauns in Ireland.
(b) rules aren’t very effective.
(c) choices are usually made without considering all the details.
(d) creatures live in trees and use their tail as a fifth limb.

8. Affluent
(a) meals are mostly made of bread, water, and potatoes.
(b) families in this neighborhood are very generous to others.
(c) in six languages, Tina was also a chess grandmaster.
(d) mice have made their home in the attic.

---

12D Completing Sentences
Complete the sentences to demonstrate your knowledge of the words in bold.

1. Our legacy to the next generation should be

2. I can be reticent when

3. I find it irksome when

4. It would be ostentatious to

5. A philanthropist is someone who

6. A person I know who deserves prestige is

7. A subject I would like to immerse myself in is

8. If you accede to something, that means

9. If a rule is arbitrary, it is

10. A tycoon has
Hearst Castle’s Master Builder

As part of the tour of Hearst Castle, also known as San Simeon, in southern California, visitors get to see home movies. These films show many of the celebrities who were guests there during the 1930s and 1940s. In one film, a tiny, bespectacled woman hiding her face behind a sheaf of papers is mistakenly identified by the narrator as William Randolph Hearst’s secretary. In fact, she was Julia Morgan, the architect who designed and supervised the building of the castle, which some have described as the most ostentatious residence of the twentieth century.

There is an explanation for the error. Julia Morgan, despite being an extremely prolific architect, with over seven hundred buildings to her credit, was a very reticent person; she actively avoided publicity for herself. From early in her career, she rarely gave interviews. When she retired at the age of seventy-nine, she had all her architectural drawings destroyed. She declared that the buildings themselves would be her legacy. As a result, very little was written about her for many years.

Julia Morgan was born into an affluent San Francisco family in 1872. At that time, it was not common for young women to attend college. Despite this fact, Morgan entered the engineering school at the University of California at Berkeley. After graduation, she became the first woman admitted as an architectural student to the prestigious École des Beaux Arts in Paris, France. When her studies were completed, she returned to California, ready to open her own firm. First, however, she had to pass the state licensing exam. In 1904, she became the first woman to receive an architectural license to practice in that state.

Morgan had great skill in understanding her clients’ wishes and in carrying them out successfully. She designed and built private homes as well as public buildings. One of her clients was Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, a wealthy widow and philanthropist. Her only child was the publishing tycoon William Randolph Hearst. When Mrs. Hearst died in 1919, her son inherited her enormous fortune. To match his great wealth, Hearst had extravagant plans: He would have a huge home built on his 275,000-acre ranch, midway between San Francisco and Los Angeles. For this project, he hired Julia Morgan.
For the next twenty years, Morgan immersed herself in every aspect of the design and construction of the main house and three guest houses. Early in the project she supervised the laying of five miles of road to provide access to the site. She also arranged for a dock to be built to receive building materials arriving by ship. As the buildings were completed, she brought skilled artisans from Europe to execute the wood and stone carvings that embellish many of the rooms.

From the beginning, Hearst was actively involved in the building of “the ranch,” as he called it. At times, this must have been irksome; for example, after an elaborate fireplace was completed, it had to be dismantled and moved to a different place in the same room because Hearst was dissatisfied with its location. Morgan had no choice but to accede to Hearst’s wishes when he arbitrarily changed his mind, as he frequently did.

The scope of the project provided Morgan with a unique challenge as an architect. Casa Grande, the main house, contains 115 rooms, filled with art treasures collected in Europe. Its twin towers, 137 feet high, offer a fine panorama of the Pacific Ocean and the Santa Lucia mountains. The outdoor Neptune pool, lined with green and white marble, is not only breathtakingly beautiful but also soundly constructed on its hillside site. In addition to the buildings, Morgan directed the creation of numerous gardens and a private zoo that grew to include more than 100 species.

By the late 1930s, construction at San Simeon ceased. Morgan continued to work on other projects for Hearst as well as for other clients until 1951, when she retired. In 1958, San Simeon became one of California’s state historical monuments. With over one million visitors a year, it is now one of the nation’s most popular tourist attractions. Everyone knows that it was Hearst’s millions that paid for it, but very few know the name of the person who designed and supervised its building. And that is the way Julia Morgan would have wanted it.

> Answer each of the following questions with a sentence. If a question does not contain a vocabulary word from the lesson’s word list, use one in your answer. Use each word only once.

1. Give some details of the San Simeon project that show that William Randolph Hearst was an affluent man.
2. What has been the result of Julia Morgan's reticence?

3. Why do you think Morgan brought artisans from Europe to do the carvings?

4. How do you know that Hearst was successful with his business?

5. How do you know that Morgan did not find Hearst too irksome to work with?

6. Why might fireplaces have to be dismantled before being moved?

7. Which details in the passage suggest that Hearst's taste was rather ostentatious?

8. Was Hearst Castle Morgan's only project? Explain.

9. Why would Morgan have to accede to Hearst's decisions about the castle?

10. Why must Hearst's frequent changes have been hard to accept?

11. Why do you think Morgan included towers as part of the design of the main house?
12. What is the meaning of immersed as it is used in the passage?

13. Why would it be inaccurate to describe San Simeon as a philanthropic project?

14. What is the meaning of legacy as it is used in the passage?

15. Which details in the passage suggest that Morgan deserves a position of prestige among American architects?

---

Fun & Fascinating FACTS

- Commodore Matthew C. Perry's visit to Japan in 1854 opened that country for the first time to trade with the United States. It also added a new word to the English language. Perry negotiated with a Japanese official, whose title was taikun. This was formed from two Chinese words, ta, "great," and kiun, "prince." Perry introduced the word on his return to the United States, and it caught on. The spelling became modified to tycoon. During Abraham Lincoln's presidency, members of his cabinet affectionately referred to him by that term, tycoon.

- Another English word of Chinese origin is typhoon, a wind of hurricane force in the western Pacific, formed from ta, "great," and feng, "wind."

- The Greek verb philein, "to love," combines with the Greek anthropos, "humankind," to form philanthropist. Other words formed from philein include bibliophile, "a person who loves and collects books"; Anglophil, "a person who loves England and the English"; Francophile, "a person who loves France and the French"; philosophy, "the love of and seeking after wisdom"; and philology, "the love of words and language."